Kate and Bob Robbins purchased the property from a realtor in 1984. It's believed that the barn was built in early 1900.

Today the barn is used as a shop and storage area. Occasionally a few farm animals are housed there.

The Lodi Challengers 4-H club made the barn quilt as part of their summer art project. The quilt measures 8' x 8' and weighs over 150 pounds. It is easily viewed from Highway 13.
