Program

Margaret Bau, Cooperative Development Specialist, USDA Rural Development – Wisconsin, presented Cooperatives: What Can We Do Together to Build Efficiency (and Save Money).

A cooperative is a business owned and democratically controlled by the people who use its services. Traditionally they were formed as a defensive strategy, but now they are proactive.

There are several different types of cooperatives in Wisconsin (consumer co-ops, producer co-ops, shared services co-ops and worker co-ops). Margaret gave examples of the different types in her presentation.
